FLOOR DEBATE

April 23, 2003 LB 759

it's the presidents that served in difficult times. I would like to think that 10 or 20 years from now the people in Nebraska will look back at us and say, they did the right thing. Thank you.

SPEAKER BROMM: Thank you, Senator Johnson. Senator Friend.

SENATOR FRIEND: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the Legislature, I wanted to correct the record. Yesterday, I had mentioned on the record that Senator Landis had called me narrow-minded and provincial. I was just joking. He hasn't done that yet. (Laughter) So I'll...we'll give him the least...and, you know, I guess however long I have here to accomplish that. He has not called me that yet, though. I wanted to correct the record. Yesterday, what happened...this amendment scares me because...mainly because all punitive taxation scares me. It's almost...there was a movie and I talked to Senator Quandahl about it, and we laugh about it. Yesterday, it reminded me of that. He almost...there is a movie called A Christmas Story, and it's an old movie. And there is a bully in the movie named Scut Farcus. Senator Quandahl reminded me of Scut Farcus a little bit yesterday. Senator Chambers was Scut Farcus' mentor. I don't know how that happened but I...if Senator Quandahl was Scut Farcus, I was Senator Quandahl's crummy little toady, Grover Dill. So I enjoyed the heck out of that. My kids would have anyway. I don't know if you guys did. The bottom line is, Senator Maxwell brought up earlier here today that some unconventional and unorthodox, I guess, behavior, if you will, occurred yesterday. Look for more of it, as far as I'm concerned. This is not...this has got to happen. If times like this don't dictate that unique efforts and unique attitudes toward the way we're going to approach this are not warranted, then I don't know what does. I mean we're not going to get there. I would just like to...I will return the rest of my time to the Chair. I would just like to say that yesterday, as far as I'm concerned it's just started. That type of behavior is going to continue. Now I might not be leading it but I'll be Grover Dill. I'll be Grover Dill the whole way. I mean this type of stuff has to continue. I will return the rest of my time to the Chair. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
